1. Program Background. Navy Reserve instructor duty involves preparing Selected Reservists for mobilization. The job is one of great responsibility and in many instances the instructor is the vital link between reservists and "state-of-the-art" knowledge of fleet operations.

a. Included among the member's collateral duties at some locations, the job may require cleaning stations and minor maintenance functions since Navy Reserve centers are generally situated away from major Navy installations.

b. Since the primary duty is to train Selected Reservists, instructor's duty requires availability when reservists report (weekends and some evenings). Suitable time off is provided at other times during the week.

c. Tour length is 36 months.

2. Requirements/Qualifications

a. Member must have 9502 Navy Enlisted Classification (NEC) code.

c. Required obligated service (OBLISERV) for this program is 36 months.
